

August 5th

Dear Mr. Marx,

I live downwind of the projected Intermodal and it would be the end of clean country air - the tremendous amount of run off, if you pave that much land, will cause serious flooding and water pollution - those are long term dangers - short term, the worst danger would be all those eighteen wheelers on our roads -

Why was a full environmental impact study not done at the start? Why not put this project down in the railroad yards in Kansas City Kansas where it belongs? people move to the country and little towns like Gardner, for the peace, quiet and clean air - this project would ruin it all - Please study the situation in depth - think what it would do to you if you had recently built a beautiful country house and landscaped the acreage - it would result in a huge drop in the value of your property and the pollution would make it uninhabitable - we need protection - please help - save us from bad air, flooding, dangerous traffic and constant noise - a full environmental study will show that this is not the place for this Intermodal project -

Thank you for your attention -
